

Prediction horizon

Heatmap visualization showing the relationship between 14 variables (labeled 1 to 14 on the x-axis). The color scale ranges from dark red (high correlation) to light yellow (low correlation). The diagonal is dark red, indicating perfect self-correlation. The heatmap shows a block-like structure of high correlation in the top-left corner, with values generally decreasing as the distance from the diagonal increases.

Prediction horizon

